This little wad uses a similar concept to the old Galooms mid-life crisis download. It's a text adventure game based on the 60's television show, The Honeymooners, and the storyline requires you to find the missing donkeys. -Special thanks to Raan Luckele for putting me onto this wad! Everything you see in the screenshot is from Donkey Kong 64. I haven't created a fan page for this yet, so if you want to be the first to download the download, go ahead and follow me here: I have been working on this game for a few months now. It has gone through numerous evolutions, and it's finally ready. What's special about this game? You'll have to try it out for yourself to find out. The game is set in a small town, and you start off as a delivery guy (not to be confused with Donkey Kong 64's Donkey Kong). Click on the image to take a look at the settings for this wad. This wad is similar to the arcade game, Donkey Kong, in that it uses a concept that's found in that game. Instead of transporting freight, you're transporting newspaper. The game will have both the arcade and SNES levels, and I'm working on adding all of the SNES graphics. In addition to that, the game will also feature a level editor. To make things even more interesting, you'll be able to share your levels with the rest of the world. Everything you see in the screenshot is from Donkey Kong. The game will have both the arcade and SNES levels, and I'm working on adding all of the SN 82157476af
